'LOST DAY'

Dedicated to
DR. AMMANN

*There were two young men who were tired
They were tired and a little bit lost*

*They thought they were kings of their best
And found out they were just like the rest*

*One day they went out for a day
Though they risked falling down a drain*

*They smiled like two babies without fear
As you will all be happy to hear.*

Goodbye for now

Lilbertand..... George
